NOTES

Departmental Quarry Certification indicates the following:

- The Quarry assessment submitted by the Applicant has been evaluated by a Departmental Geologist and complies with the assessment standards outlined in Section 5 of Engineering Policy EP108.
- The source rock properties as described in the submitted assessment are generally superior to those required in the relevant specifications for the nominated product or products.

Departmental Quarry Certification does not guarantee product compliance with Department Specifications since this is influenced by many operational factors such as extraction and production procedures and source material variability.
